

THE WOLVES ALWAYS
COME AT NIGHT

INTERNATIONAL COMPETITION

The Wolves Always Come at Night

It is spring in the Mongolian steppe where young nomadic couple Davaa and Zaya live with their four children and look after their animals. One fatal day, a fierce storm hits the family's camp and they discover that half their herd has not survived. They make the painful decision to leave for the city: Davaa has to sell his beloved horse and starts working in a gravel factory. The loss of their old life weighs heavily, but the hope of a return keeps them going.

Australia, Mongolia, Germany • 96 min. •
Dialogues: Mongolian • Director: Gabrielle Brady • Producer: Rita Walsh, Ariunaa Tserenpil, Julia Niethammer • Editing: Katharina Fielder • DOP: Michael Latham
• Contact: Cinephil, tal@cinephil.com

